Councilwoman Adams stated that our Fire Department does a great job, here are a few things they have done for in the year 2007, working the RDC in using GPS and map the correct location of all fire hydrants in the City. The Fire Department currently has written 5 grants that is out for review. A fully operational fire prevention program has been established in 2007. The Fire Department spent a total of three weeks educating students at the Hahira Elementary, Head Start, and all Day Care facilities in Hahira. The department has worked diligently with the Hahira Middle School to develop a video fire safe program for the older kids, and this program will be delivered monthly through their in house TV programming. The Department is still working on our smoke detector program. It is the department's goal to insure every home in Hahira has a working smoke detector, but with limited manpower and time constraints, the department has not been as aggressive as they would like in this program. The department has become a partner with the local boy scouts to assist them on certain levels of their education. The department has been asked to serve as a part of an advisory committee for the Head Start School. The department has added medical training to our staff to assist EMS on all life-threatening medical calls within the City. The department has started responding to all major medical calls while paid staff is on duty. Most of the City's paid staff are EMTs. This is to insure a quick response for anyone in need of medical treatment. The City is required to flow test all fire hydrants twice a year, but with the limited manpower hours, each hydrant is tested at least once a year. The City is also required to visit each commercial business twice per year to conduct prefire plans. This includes drawing a schematic of each building and all the information pertaining to that business. The Department's Fire Inspection division is working with all businesses in town to educate/enforce compliance with life safety codes. The department has worked for the last few months with the Lowndes County Board of Education in obtaining a house that they paid to have moved to our newly developed training field. This house will benefit the department for years to come. It will be used to increase our realistic training objectives. Chief Bennett was appointed on a advisory committee with Valdosta Technical College on the newly developed Fire Science Program. This will offer our department a better opportunity at a more diverse form of education that will benefit Hahira. Chief Bennett was deployed by the State of Georgia during the Ware County wildfires as the Operational Planning Section Chief, and his division had approximately one thousand firefighters and 150 fire apparatus, and a large number of aircraft under his command. The emergency calls have continued to increase yearly. This is only one page of things they have done this year.
