PUBLIC HEARING

- A. Text Amendment – Hahira Subdivision Regulations- Section 4-1.3 and 4-2- "Preliminary Plats and Final Plats"

Anne-Marie Wolff, Associate Planner, of the Planning Commission stated that this item was postponed at the June Planning Commission meeting to allow staff time to meet with the surveying community. There are four issues: (1) Tax Map and Parcel Numbers – When staff receives a plat for review, it is necessary for the reviewer to precisely locate the property within the GIS database. The proposed amendment will require the Tax Map and Parcel number be included in the Letter of Intent submitted with the subdivision plat. (2) Variances – Often, a variance has been granted for the property being platted, which the reviewing staff may not be aware of. Staff is requesting that if a variance has been granted for the subject property, and is applicable to the proposed subdivision, the applicant place a note describing such variance on the subdivision plat. (3) Zoning – The current zoning needs to be on the plat. Though the zoning may change at a later date, having it noted on the plat would provide the historical information as to what development standards applied to the property at the time of subdivision. (4) Parent Tract Info – While surveying the entire parent tract is unnecessary, information relating to the size and remaining frontage of the property should be shown to prevent the parent tract from being reduced below the minimum size and frontage requirements. Ms. Wolff stated that the 5th item was Points of Reference, which staff is still working towards a compromise for this issue. An additional text amendment will be presented in the near future addressing issue 5 and the exempt plat portion of issue 1. Staff requested approval of the proposed amendment to address the above noted four issues. The Planning Commission recommended approval.
